

Add a Video Note in a Discussion Post Using Insert Stuff

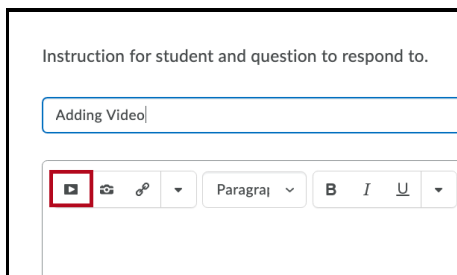

Last Modified on 01/30/2024 12:25 pm CST

You can add a video note within your discussion posts to add interest and depth.

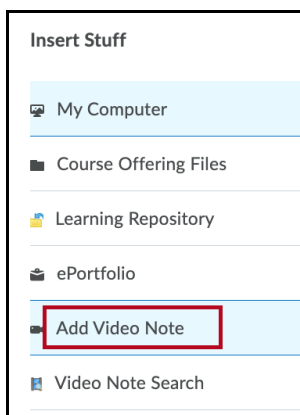

Use Insert Stuff to Add a Video to Your Discussion Post

Show Video Walkthrough

1. In your post, click on the [Insert Stuff] icon.

2. Click on [Add Video Note].

3. You will see a window with a preview of what will be in the video. To start recording, click the [New Recording] button.

NOTE: If you cannot begin recording a popup window may be asking if you want to allow D2L to use your camera and microphone. Make sure to choose the correct hardware if there is a choice. (The list will vary based on your hardware and software.)

4. Once you have finished recording your video, click the [Stop Recording] button, then the [Next] button.

5. Fill out the field with information about your video, then click the [Next] button.

Add Video Note

Enter a video note description. A description is useful video. You may also modify the title of the recording.

Title:

Description:

6. Depending on various factors, your video may take longer to process. You can click the [Refresh Preview] button until you see the video in the window.

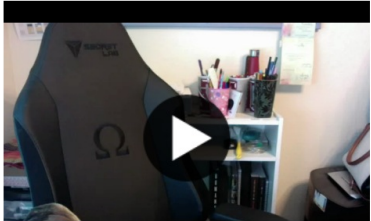

Insert Stuff

Add Video Note
Properties

Media file is currently being transformed. You may view this by refreshing in a bit, or you can insert the file and view it later.

7. Once the preview appears, you can click the arrow to watch the video. If you are satisfied with it, click the [Insert] button to put the video into your discussion post.

Add Video Note
Properties

8. You will see your video embedded into your discussion post, and you can continue with your post.

